

Lesson 02

Participating in a Meeting

Warm-Up

1. Why is it important to get someone to participate and share ideas in a meeting?
2. Is it easy to get your colleagues to participate in meetings?

Role-Play

Scenario: David is asking for everyone's ideas during the meeting.

David: Alright, everyone. Does anyone have any ideas regarding our new project concept?

Pia: We need to create something that will link our future products together and can be controlled via smartphone.

David: That's an interesting point, Pia. What do you think, Daniel?

Daniel: Well, we don't currently have anything like that, and I think there's a lot of potential there. Pia, could you further clarify the information needed on that?

Pia: We can use the information gathered for data analysis and statistics.

David: Karla, do you have anything to add?

Karla: That's a great point, Pia. I think it could be extremely useful for us and for our customers. I'd like to add that we must create an entirely new system to manage the data.

David: Thank you for your input, Karla. Does anyone else have any additional ideas?

Role-Play Analysis

Answer the following questions:

1. What did you learn from this role-play?
2. How did you feel about participating in the discussion?
3. What would you do differently in a real meeting?

Participating in a Meeting Useful Phrases

1. I'd like to add something – used to contribute additional information or insights to the discussion.

Example:

- I'd like to add something to that point.

2. Could you clarify that? – used to seek additional information or explanation on a topic.

Example:

- Just to make sure I'm clear, could you clarify that point further?

3. That's an interesting point / That's a great point – used to acknowledge and show appreciation for someone's idea or comment.

Example:

- That's an interesting point, thank you for sharing!
- That's a great point; can we explore it further?

4. Can I have a word here? / May I jump in? – used to politely interrupt and contribute to the discussion.

Example:

- Excuse me, can I have a word here?
- Excuse me, may I jump in?

Practice

Instructions:

Team up with a partner and practice asking for input by making statement and then asking your partner for their input.

STATEMENT	ASK FOR INPUT
Our brand deserves to be recognized by more people.	Does anyone have any ideas about the issue?
Business attire during client meeting is best.	What do you think, [Partner's Name]
We should have a strict work-life balance policy.
We had better allocate our resources on the new system and technology.

Production

To help you feel more confident and prepared when participating in meetings, answer the following questions.

1. What should you do to prepare for a meeting?
2. How can you confidently participate in a meeting?
3. How can you effectively communicate your ideas in a meeting?
4. How can you stay engaged and focused during a meeting?

Key Vocabulary

Word/Phrase	Use	Example
Contribute	To add or provide an idea, suggestion, or expertise to the discussion	Can I contribute my thoughts on this topic?
Ask for clarification	To ensure understanding of the discussion	Can you clarify that point ?
Build on	To add or expand on someone else's idea or suggestion	I would like to build on Nelson's idea.
Interrupt politely	To add value to the discussion without interrupting aggressively	Excuse me, may I add something?
Summarize	To recap the main points discussed	Let me summarize what we have covered so far...